About us:

Echidna Audio is an Australian sound engineering company based in Haymarket Creative, Sydney.

Our passion is world-class sound! We service projects requiring audio expertise and equipment, to budget minded projects such as independent artists, content creators and small business.

Our primary capabilities are qualified post-production services such as recording, mixing editing and technical advice. We use our own specialised equipment and sound-isolation booth, as a unique recording space that is hireable. We also make audio equipment affordably available for hire and conduct on-site recordings.

Founder, Martin Gallagher, has worked in the performance and arts industry for over 10 years and holds qualifications in SAE (School of Audio Engineering) completing a Bachelor of Audio (SAE).

A true passion project, Marty started the company shortly after purchasing the first sound isolation booth, which is actively based at Haymarket Creative, an initiative to facilitate creative businesses in Haymarket, Sydney CBD.
